March 29-31, 2010
9:00 a.m. – 3:30 p.m.
Northwest Indian College
2522 Kwina Road
Bellingham WA 28226

Please join us for an extraordinary opportunity to train in this internationally recognized best practice model. This training will focus on using the program in Native American communities.

In three days you will be trained to facilitate the 21 different parent, youth and family sessions in the curriculum. In addition you will receive updates on the latest research that is happening in Washington and the national levels and get lots of helpful hints on how to best implement the program in your community.

This training will prepare people to be facilitators who are connected to existing teams/sites and is also appropriate for agency representatives who are considering implementing the program. It is highly recommended that teams of 3-4 people attend. The program requires at least 3 leaders for each session.

For more information on the program, visit our website:
<http://sfp.wsu.edu>.

WSU Extension is pleased to offer this training to people connected to Washington tribes. Others may participate. Individuals connected to tribal communities can attend for a special price of $50 per person. Anyone not connected to a Washington tribal community as a service provider or a member can attend for the cost of $95 per person.

This includes lunch each day, snacks and a training packet. Manuals must be purchased separately. We can accept either checks, purchase orders or credit card payments for the training fee and purchase of manuals.

Manual Fee: $175 We recommend one manual for every two people.

Space is limited to the first 24 registrants. Registration deadline: March 12, 2010.
